Child custody etc.	There are no mutual minor children
	An agreement has been/will be made on child custody, etc. <small>If no agreement has been made yet on child custody, right of access and maintenance, the parents can agree on these matters. The agreement must be made in writing and submitted for confirmation to the child welfare supervisor of the municipality where the child's place of residence is. Unless otherwise agreed by the parents, child custody will remain unchanged.</small> <small>During the court hearing concerning divorce, a demand for child custody, right of access, and establishment of child maintenance can be submitted. A court hearing is necessary if the parents cannot reach an agreement on the matter. The matter can be processed in assisted mediation of custody disputes, provided that the parents consent to it, or in a trial.</small> Help with arranging children's affairs after divorce is available from a parenthood plan (thl.fi).
